English Language Arts

Beginning of the year procedures and an overview of the reading skills for the year will be introduced. Students will practice research and inquiry skills, using text features and recognizing the difference between fiction and nonfiction. Students will learn expectations for Accelerated Reading. (AR)

Math

Our unit of focus for the next few weeks is number operations in Base ten for Addition and Subtraction. Students will learn how they can add and subtract within 1000 to solve one and two step word problems. Students will achieve fluency with strategies based on place value, properties of operations, and/or the relationship between addition and subtraction.

Writing

In writing we will be reviewing how to organize information and write detailed notes from our reading passages. Please work with your child on their spelling, punctuation, and grammar.

Science/Social Studies

Students will begin a unit on science safety and tools. They will be learning the proper use and safety techniques of instruments in a lab. We are encouraging students to incorporate nonfiction text into their daily reading time to reinforce what they're learning about each day.
